

Wholegood Web Upload

Ibcos Computers have developed a fully automated wholegood web export system. Gold Wholegood information is automatically collected and exported to an external web site. The wholegood items can be grouped and include a group picture. These groups are then available on the website, within each group a list of individual items is shown. Selecting an individual item displays full details.

This system is virtually self-managing. By simply carrying out normal day-to-day processes, for example, receiving into stock or self-billing, will automatically make the wholegoods available on the web site. When items are sold or allocated to customers, they are removed from the website.

As this process is automated there is no need to re-key information for website purposes resulting in accurate data updated daily onto the website.

Web classifications are created and added to wholegood groups in order to create groups for the website with thumbnail images.

Images of individual wholegoods can be added using the document store, pictures are emailed into the document store to add to the individual wholegoods ready for batch upload to a website.

Create an email to the document store email address with a subject line of “WGSW 12345678” where 12345678 is the wholegood number and attach the picture of the machine in .JPG format. Send emails for each wholegood for which pictures are required.

For each wholegood group code to be made available on the website a web classification code can be added to the wholegood group.

Status Code

(System Management, Wholegoods/Workshop, Wholegood Status Code Maintenance)

A new status code can be added to exclude individual wholegoods from the upload if required.

By default all wholegoods will be uploaded to the website.

It is possible to create a new status code, e.g. 'W' for “Stock on Web” and the “Exclude Status from Web Update” could then be set to 'S'. This would by default not upload any wholegoods to the website until their status code has been changed to 'W'.
